

D-Day: A key chapter in Canada's story.

iCardz introduces our new teachers resource package

Lest We Forget; Canada at War, D-Day Educational Cards, in advance of the 65th anniversary of D-Day in 2009.

Modeled after user-friendly sports and gaming cards, this signature series tells the story of D-Day from a unique Canadian perspective. The 112-card set includes stunning photographs and graphics complimented by informative text highlighting: the leaders, stories and events, equipment, regiments, medals, maps, puzzle cards and veterans' first-hand accounts of actual events.

Fully endorsed by the Royal Canadian Legion, a percentage of each sale goes directly to fund Legion programs and activities.

Lesson plans accompanying the Lest We Forget: D-Day educational cards are designed to develop students' higher-level thinking abilities, while also increasing skills such as critical and creative thinking, public speaking and presentation, leadership and teamwork, communications and IT.

This resource package can be used for both year-round curriculum or as a Remembrance Day-based learning tool for Grades 4 through post-secondary. Included in the package are: a complete set of D-Day educational cards, a themed binder, 11 lesson plans, a teachers guide, 3 fun and educational card games, a DVD featuring classroom visual aides and interviews with Second World War PEI veterans as well as a tie-in interactive website.

Evolving from a partnership with the Royal Canadian Legion, iCardz developed the Lest We Forget: D-Day cards to increase awareness and remembrance among Canadian youth about Canada's involvement in the Second World War.
